

Animal Health Technician
GS-704-7
(SJ #9125/9128/9131)

Examples of Qualifying Experience:

- Experience inspecting and testing livestock, poultry, or avian species on ranches, farms, auctions, markets, etc., to detect animal diseases and parasites. Experience inspecting garbage feeding activities, or collecting blood samples. Experience dipping or spraying livestock. Experience issuing certificates for the removal of livestock or poultry.

or

- Experience administering animal vaccinations, treating large animals for disease, or performing euthanasia on livestock or other animals.

or

- Experience independently identifying animals by a variety of methods such as ear tagging, tattooing, or branding. Experience inspecting and auditing records of sale yards to monitor the movement of animals.

or

- FSIS food inspector/consumer safety officer experience. To qualify at this level, FSIS experience must demonstrate the ability to independently perform inspections, collect and analyze data, and discuss non-compliance issues and other sensitive regulatory matters with plant personnel. Experience independently determining when regulatory control action is necessary.